CLARE COUNTY LIBRARY BOOKCLUB COLLECTION

Book clubs are a popular way for book lovers to discuss books in an informal friendly setting. Some book clubs meet in libraries or each other's homes, some in pubs or restaurants. They are a great way to get together as a group and talk about your shared passion for books and reading whether it's for lively discussion, serious debate or just a glass of wine with your friends or neighbours. Bookclubs run in many libraries throughout County Clare – contact your local library or see www.clarelibrary.ie if you are interested in participating in one of the library-based book clubs.

The Clare County Library Bookclub collection was set up to make multiple copies of books easily available for bookclubs.

10 copies of each book are available for loan to members of bookclubs who are registered with the library. Library staff can place holds on titles for bookclubs.

Books from the bookclub collection may be borrowed for 4 weeks. Each member must use their own library card to borrow a copy.

To ensure a good supply of the listed titles, bookclub members are asked to return their copies within the 28 days and to place holds on only one title at the time.

DONAL RYAN ALL WE SHALL KNOW

Melody Shee is alone and in trouble. Her husband doesn't take her news too well. She doesn't want to tell her father yet because he's a good man and this could break him. Mary is a young Traveller woman, and she knows more about Melody than she lets on. She might just save Melody's life.

Ryan's The Spinning Heart won the Book of the Year at the 2012 Irish Book Awards and was shortlisted for the IMPAC International Literary Award and long-listed for the Man Booker Prize.

ROSE TREMAIN THE GUSTAV SONATA

The Gustav Sonata begins in the 1930s, under the shadow of the Second World War, and follows two boys into maturity and middle age, where their friendship is tested as never before.

Shortlisted for the 2016 Costa Book Award. Rose Tremain will be interviewed by Sean Rocks at the Ennis Bookclub Festival 2017.

AKHIL SHARMA FAMILY LIFE

Family Life is a story about the loneliness and despair of an Indian family whose American dream turns sour. By turns blackly funny, touching, raw and devastating, the book is a vivid and wrenching portrait of sibling relationships and the impact of tragedy on one family from a boy's eye view.

Impac Award winner 2016.

ANTHONY DOERR ALL THE LIGHT WE CANNOT SEE

This book weaves together the stories of a French girl named Marie-Laure who has lost her eyesight and a German orphan named Werner. As Hitler's occupied territory grows, Marie-Laure and Werner's lives and families are torn apart by the war, yet this novel is the story of people who, against the odds, find good in one another.

Winner of the Pulitzer Prize for Fiction 2015.

SEBASTIAN BARRY DAYS WITHOUT END

Thomas McNulty and John Cole have fled 1850s Sligo to rebuild their lives in America. Fighting in the Indian wars and the Civil War, they find these days to be vivid and alive, despite the horrors they both see and are complicit in. Their lives are further enriched and endangered when a young Indian girl crosses their path and the possibility of lasting happiness emerges, if only they can survive. Shortlisted for the 2016 Costa Book Award.

MADELEINE THIEN DO NOT SAY WE HAVE NOTHING

This book follows a 10-year-old girl and her mother who invite a Chinese refugee into their home. Slowly the refugee tells the story of her family in revolutionary China, from the crowded teahouses in the first days of Chairman Mao's ascent to the events leading to the Tiananmen Square protests of 1989.

Shortlisted for the Man Booker Prize 2016.

VIET THANH NGUYEN THE SYMPATHIZER

The narrator of this novel, a Vietnamese army captain, is a man of divided loyalties, a half-French, half-Vietnamese communist sleeper agent in America after the end of the Vietnam war. This gripping spy novel takes us inside the mind of this double agent, a man whose lofty ideals necessitate his betrayal of the people closest to him.

Winner of the Pulitzer Prize for Fiction 2016.

LISA MCINERNEY THE GLORIOUS HERESIES

When grandmother Maureen Phelan is surprised in her home in Cork by a stranger, she clubs the intruder with a Holy Stone. The consequences of this unplanned murder connect four misfits struggling against their meagre circumstances. The Glorious Heresies presents an unforgettable vision of a city plagued by poverty and exploitation, where salvation still awaits in the most unexpected places.

Winner of the Bailey's Women's Prize for Fiction 2016.

EMMA DONOGHUE THE WONDER

A village in 1850s Ireland is baffled by Anna O'Donnell's fast. The little girl appears to be thriving after months without food, and the story of this 'wonder' has reached fever pitch. An English nurse, Lib Wright, sent to investigate whether she is a fraud, meets a journalist hungry for a story. Is it a miracle or is something more sinister unfolding right before Lib's eyes, a tragedy in which she herself is playing a part?

Emma Donoghue's Room was shortlisted for both the Man Booker and Orange Prizes.

EIMEAR MCBRIDE THE LESSER BOHEMIANS

An eighteen-year-old Irish girl, recently arrived in London to attend drama school, meets an older man – a well-regarded actor in his own right. While she is naive and thrilled by life in the big city, he is haunted by more than a few demons, and the tumultuous relationship that ensues risks undoing them both.

McBride's A Girl is a Half-Formed Thing won the 2014 Bailey's Women's Prize for Prize.

IAN MCEWAN NUTSHELL

Trudy has betrayed her husband, John. She's still in the marital home but not with John. Instead, she's with his brother, the profoundly banal Claude, and the two of them have a plan. But there is a witness to their plot: the inquisitive, nine-month-old resident of Trudy's womb. This unborn child tells the story of how his mother and her lover plan to murder his father.

Ian McEwan won the 1998 Man Booker Prize for Amsterdam.

HANYA YANAGIHARA A LITTLE LIFE

A Little Life follows four college classmates as they move to New York in search of fame and fortune. While their relationships, which are tinged by addiction, success, and pride, deepen over the decades, the men are held together by their devotion to the brilliant, enigmatic Jude, a man scarred by an unspeakable childhood trauma. Dark and disturbing, the novel examines friendship, the tyranny of memory and the limits of human endurance.

Shortlisted for the 2015 Man Booker Prize.

MAGGIE O'FARRELL THIS MUST BE THE PLACE

Daniel Sullivan is a man with a complicated life. A New Yorker living in the wilds of Ireland, he has children he never sees in California, a father he loathes in Brooklyn and a wife, Claudette, who is a reclusive ex-film star given to shooting at anyone who ventures up their driveway. He is also about to find out something about a woman he lost touch with 20 years ago, and this discovery will send him off-course, far away from wife and home.

Maggie O'Farrell won the 2010 Costa Novel Award for The Hand That First Held Mine.

LIZ NUGENT LYING IN WAIT

The last people who expected to be meeting with a drug-addicted prostitute are a respected judge and his reclusive wife. And they certainly don't plan to kill her and bury her in their exquisite suburban garden. Yet Andrew and Lydia Fitzsimons find themselves in this unfortunate situation. While Lydia does all she can to protect their innocent son Laurence and their social standing, her husband begins to fall apart. But Laurence is not as naïve as Lydia thinks and his obsession with the dead girl's family may be the undoing of his own.

Lying in Wait was the winner of the RTE Ryan Tubridy Listener's Choice award at the 2016 Irish Book awards.

M. L. STEDMAN THE LIGHT BETWEEN OCEANS

This is a story about a lighthouse keeper and his wife, who live on a lonely island with just seagulls, stars and buffeting winds for company. One day a boat holding a dead man and a crying child washes up on the shore. The only 2 islanders are about to make a devastating decision that will shatter many lives including their own. This is a story about right and wrong, and how sometimes they look the same.

A New York Times bestseller and winner of Book of the Year at the Australian Book Industry Awards.

GRAHAM NORTON HOLDING

The remote Irish village of Duneen has known little drama; and yet its inhabitants are troubled. So when human remains are discovered on an old farm the village's dark past begins to unravel. As the frustrated Sergeant PJ Collins struggles to solve a genuine case for the first time in his life, he unearths a community's worth of anger, resentment, secrets and regrets.

Holding is Graham Norton's first novel.

MIKE MCCORMACK SOLAR BONES

Once a year, on All Souls' Day, it is said in Ireland that the dead may return. Solar Bones is the story of one such visit. Marcus Conway, a middle-aged engineer, turns up one afternoon at his kitchen table and considers the events that took him away and then brought him home again. Politics, family, art, marriage, health, civic duty and the environment are just a few of the themes touched on in this single novel-length sentence.

Winner of the Bord Gáis Energy Irish Book Awards Novel of the Year 2016.

ANN CLEEVES THE SEAGULL

The Seagull is a murder mystery in the bestselling Vera Stanhope series, about corruption deep in the heart of a community, and about fragile, and fracturing, family relationships. As DI Vera Stanhope investigates an old case, her past collides dangerously with the present. She has to confront her unwanted memories and face the possibility that her father was involved in a crime. The truth is about to come out but is Vera ready for what it will reveal?

Ann Cleeves was presented with the 2017 Diamond Dagger of the Crime Writers' Association, the highest honour in British crime writing.

RODDY DOYLE SMILE

Victor Forde, a washed-up writer, has returned to the part of Dublin where he was born. A meeting with a man who claims to remember him from school stirs up memories from Victor's past. But it's the memories of school, and of one particular Brother, that he cannot control and which eventually threaten to destroy his sanity.

Roddy Doyle won the Booker Prize in 1993, for Paddy Clarke Ha Ha Ha.

BERNARD MACLAVERTY MIDWINTER BREAK

A retired couple fly to Amsterdam for a midwinter break. Amongst the wintry streets and icy canals we see their relationship fracturing beneath the surface. And when memories re-emerge of a troubled time in their native Ireland things begin to fall apart. As their midwinter break comes to an end, we understand how far apart they are - and can only watch as they struggle to save themselves.

Midwinter Break won the Novel of the Year prize at the 2017 Bord Gáis Energy Irish Book Awards.

CELESTE NG LITTLE FIRES EVERYWHERE

Elena Richardson, whose guiding principal is playing by the rules, lives in a placid, progressive suburb of Cleveland. All is well until Mia Warren - an enigmatic artist and single mother - arrives in this idyllic bubble with her teenage daughter. Mia carries with her a mysterious past, and a disregard for the rules that threatens to upend this carefully ordered community.

Little Fires Everywhere explores the weight of long-held secrets, the ferocious pull of motherhood and the danger of believing that planning and following the rules can avert disaster, or heartbreak.

SHAMSIE KAMILA HOME FIRE

Isma has spent years spent raising her twin siblings Aneeka and Parvaiz in the wake of their mother's death. Eamonn is the son of a powerful British Muslim politician. When Parvaiz disappears to prove himself to the dark legacy of the jihadist father he never knew, the lives of the two families become inextricably, devastatingly entwined. Home Fire is a compelling story of loyalties torn apart when love and politics collide.

Home Fire was chosen as one of the best books of 2017 by both the New York Times and The Guardian.
